"HARDING DAY" G. O. P. FESTIVAL TO THRILL PEOPLE

Bands, Speeches, Also Decorations Ready.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
Marion, O., July 21.—(Special.)—This was rehearsal day in Marion for what Senator Lodge calls the "little surprise party" for Senator Warren G. Harding tomorrow.

White towers topped with eagles have arisen among the maple trees that line the quiet streets on the way to Senator Harding's home. This is the court of honor.

It is possible that Senator Harding and his neighbors may be really surprised at the crowds that promise to succeed in size and spirit those at any other presidential notification ceremony.

Every hour of the day from 7 a. m. when the Harding Marching club will march to the senator's house to offer its services to him for the day, until automobiles untangle and the special trains pull out in the evening, is crowded.

Harding Aids Suffrage.
Senator Harding received a delegation from the National American Woman Suffrage association late today. Then he sent the following message to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of that association:

"I am exceedingly glad to learn you are in Tennessee seeking to consummate the ratification of the equal suffrage amendment. If any of the Republican members of the Tennessee assembly should ask my opinion as to their course, I would cordially recommend an immediate favorable action."

The women's delegation was composed of Miss Mary Olcott, Mrs. W. H. Allen, and Mrs. James Stokes, all of Bridgefield, Conn., and Mrs. George A. Rode of Chicago.

Lodge Visits Harding.
Senator Lodge motored over from Columbus this morning with Col. James G. Darden of New York and discussed the political situation with Senator Harding, returning to Columbus after lunch. He had no announcement to make, but it is understood that he is pleased with the campaign lineup on the league of nations issue and that he will take the stump for Harding and Coolidge.

Gen. T. Coleman Dupont, chairman of the committee on arrangements, and Harry M. Daugherty of the national executive committee, also were here. It is the opinion among the Republican leaders that the Democratic candidate has placed himself in an embarrassing position by swallowing whole the Wilson foreign policy.

Slight Changes in Program.
A few changes in the program for notification, which will be held in Garfield park pavilion at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, were made. Following is the program:

Will H. Hays, chairman, Republican national committee, presiding.
"The Star Spangled Banner," Columbus, Ohio, Glee club.
Invocation, Bishop William F. Oldham, former pastor Broad street M. E. church, Columbus, O.
Notification, Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman, presidential notification committee.

Acceptance—Senator Warren G. Harding.
"America" by the assembly, led by Columbus, Ohio, Republican Glee club.
Benediction—The Rev. Joseph M. Downing, pastor St. Mary's church, Marion, O.

HAMILTONIANS TO MARION.
Headed for Marion, O., to attend the Harding notification celebration, a delegation of 100 members of the Hamilton club left the Pullman street depot in the special cars at 10:30 last night. The delegation has been designated as the escort of United States Senator Lodge and members of the official notification committee.

Presiding the departure a Republican demonstration dinner was held at the clubhouse. Robert W. Dunn, president of the club; William G. Egan, chairman of the political action committee; and Capt. Victor Heintz, former Ohio congressman and regional director of the Republican national committee at Chicago, spoke.

Senator Harding will be presented by President Dunn with an engrossed resolution making him an honorary member of the Hamilton club.
Capt. George A. Berry Jr., commander of Loop post No. 144, American Legion, who accompanies the delegation, will go to Northampton, Mass., and present Gov. Calvin Coolidge, vice presidential nominee, with an engrossed resolution, similar to that presented to Senator Harding.

PAINTER DROWNS IN EVANSTON.
Frank Rutina, 1422 South Kedzie avenue, fell from the Western avenue railroad bridge in Evanston Tuesday and was drowned. He had been painting the bridge.

Resolute Going a Winning Clip in Lively Breeze

Yesterday's race, won by the Resolute, was the first of the series in which the rival yachts had a good wind for sailing. This picture of the cup defender was taken under similar conditions during the trial races with the Vanitie.

began with the preparatory signal, and waxed keener as each minute passed, did not afford any great opportunity to find much fault with either skipper. Mr. Adams was taking no chances nor was he playing with Shamrock as he did on Tuesday, and Mr. Burton, having to a very large extent cleaned the slate of the adverse criticisms he had been subjected to, was alert to gain and hold any advantage that might present itself.

No Call for "Trick" Sail.
During the final minute or so of jockeying both yachts tacked, gybed, and went through practically every maneuver known to Corinthians and in this neither gained any great advantage. Mr. Burton by this time has come to fully realize that in footling Shamrock has all the better of Resolute while in pointing the white sloop is much the superior, ordinarily.

As a result there was no attempt made to pinch the challenger and its sails were kept well filled. It was quite evident that aboard the challenger they have not the same facilities for trimming sheets in as fast as they have on the Resolute, without luffing up, and when Shamrock's boom is hauled in well over the stern it points much better than as it is sailed ordinarily. That new sail, the "fiddler's job," did not make its appearance today and several of the less experienced onlookers attributed its eventual defeat to the failure to use it, even though there was no call for it.

Aided by Veteran Pilot Guide.
When Shamrock crossed the starting line today and almost at once went about and tacked in toward the New Jersey shore, and kept on going in, closer and closer toward the beach, the old time skippers felt sure that the presence of Capt. Andrew Jackson Applegate, the Seabright pilot guide, was making itself felt, for the wisdom of doing as Shamrock was doing was quite apparent to those who watched it.

The green sail was footing faster and faster as it made its way but it was being considerably outpointed, but nevertheless it kept right on until it was close in on the fishermen's nets, while Resolute, having pointed higher, was considerably further off shore and it was a delicate question to decide whether the good point of one had given a material lead over the other.

It was a question which would have been weathered when they met, but the weather berth when they met, but

FOREIGN NEWS IN BRIEF

LONDON.—Lloyd George calls Poland essential to European peace while denouncing its aggressions against Russia against allied advice. Calls it the war mad nation of Europe. German-Russian peril if Poland goes under.

WARSAW.—Germany has 50,000 mobilized reichswehr to resist threatened invasion of East Prussia by the bolsheviks. Whole populations can be mobilized on short notice with vast quantities of war material, including artillery concealed about country.

CONSTANTINOPLE.—Arabs accept terms of French ultimatum, ending banditry in Syria.

THE HAGUE.—Root dominates the committee organizing the international court of justice.

Resolute gained it by a scant 100 yards. Then ensued an exciting series of sharp tacks, in which Shamrock tried to cross Resolute's bow. The nimble yachts were like playful, awallows, dashing first to port, then to starboard, then back again to port, oftentimes almost before their sails had filled on the preceding swing. But it was Resolute's game, and each time Capt. Adams swung it over it was a good thing. It gives us both a good appetite for more. There is no question about Resolute being a high class boat. Americans have always built good boats.

Lipton Orders Box to Hold Cup.
"I'm not a bit sorry," said Sir Thomas Lipton when his Shamrock spun over the finish line. "I feel that Resolute's victory is a good thing. It gives us both a good appetite for more. There is no question about Resolute being a high class boat. Americans have always built good boats."

The Chase Homeward.
Shamrock quickly forsook its short tacks and gave chase. It gained slightly on the reach, but Resolute beat it to the mark by two minutes and four seconds, made a close turn to windward, and broke out its greatest wind catchers with surprising rapidity.

Shamrock's turn was a bit wider and it was slower breaking out its spinnaker and balloons—and when it did get them out there was a great gap of daylight between them. Resolute held its own on the home stretch until Shamrock filled this gap with a little triangular jibeal. This seemed to help it immensely and it began to close up the interval and then passed the defender.

The crews on both boats—thirty-five on Resolute and forty on Shamrock—including skippers and observers, had an easy time of it on the home stretch, with no sails to shift, and they crouched at, apparently, "pulling" for their sleep to win.

Comparing Their Chances.
The results showed that in a moderate breeze Resolute's greater speed in pointing may be depended upon to more than offset Shamrock's witchery in footing. In a much stronger breeze, say, of eighteen knots or more, it might well resolve itself into a question of which could carry its canvas without carrying away something that would put it out of the going, and in this respect both stand about even chances.

In running before the wind the race shows that under certain conditions, boat for boat, Shamrock may possess sufficient speed to make a better showing than Resolute, as a result of its great sail area, but there are few who believe it can do well enough on this point of sailing to allow Resolute very much time. Heretofore it has been the general belief that Resolute would prove to be speedier, boat for boat.

As the next race is one in which reaching is more than likely to figure prominently, and as that is known to be Shamrock's strong point of sailing, those who were inclined to bet on the outcome of the contest sought fairly long odds, but about 7 to 5, in favor of the green sloop was the best that they could get.

With Shamrock needing but one more race to win the cup, it was generally believed some one aboard Resolute had in his possession today a challenge all ready to be handed to Commodore Garrett, the honorary secretary of the Royal Ulster Yacht club and British representative aboard the American yacht, in the event of Shamrock winning the race on Friday.

ARMY MEATS WILL BE SOLD TO CUT HI COST

Washington, D. C., July 21.—In an effort to combat the high cost of living the war department is to place millions of dollars' worth of canned meats on the market at prices below even prewar quotations, said an announcement today from the office of the division of sales.

The meats will be disposed of through wholesale and retail stores from one end of the country to the other. To help this work 60,000 postmasters, 5,000 bankers and the mayors of every city and town are said to have been organized.

Included in the meats are canned corned beef, corned beef hash, roast beef and bacon.

"The war department is standing back of every can sent from any army supply depot," the announcement says.

London May Bar Ireland to Archbishop Mannix

[By Special Cable.]
LONDON, July 21.—The British government is considering the case of Archbishop Mannix of Australia, whose anti-British speeches in New York attracted much attention here. Archbishop Mannix is a British subject and under the ordinary law could not be refused permission to land in Ireland unless a criminal charge were made against him, but the special defense of the realm act still applies to Ireland and may be invoked for the purpose of excluding him.

NEW INQUIRY IN DEATH OF WOMAN SHOT BY HUSBAND

Cleared Him of Blame, but Coroner Pushes Probe.

Coroner Hoffman today will open a personal investigation into the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, who died on Tuesday after she had been shot by her husband. Before she died Mrs. Miller corroborated her husband's assertion that the shooting was accidental.

On July 10 Mrs. Miller was taken to Montrose hospital from the family home at 1827 Nelson street by a private ambulance. She was suffering from bullet wounds in both legs. Accompanying her to the hospital were her husband, August Miller, and Herman Krouse, 3063 Lincoln avenue. Amputation was decided upon. The woman died while on the operating table.

Capt. Thomas Meagher of Sheffield venue station assigned Detective Sergeants Massett, Plonker, and Mercer to the case. Miller and Krouse told the same story. Miller had been showing his friend a revolver, they said, when it was accidentally discharged.

Woman's Relatives Ask Probe.
While the husband, Krouse, and the three detectives were testifying at the coroner's inquest yesterday relatives of Mrs. Miller called at Coroner Hoffman's office and asked to see him personally.

They pointed out to the coroner that Miller had been in a former shooting scrape.

"He has an uncontrollable temper," they told Mr. Hoffman.

In the meantime Deputy Coroner John Thum and a jury decided the shooting was accidental, and returned a verdict to that effect.

Coroner Asks for Detectives.
When Coroner Hoffman finished his interview with the dead woman's relatives, he sent a letter to Capt. Meagher asking that two detectives be ordered to come to his office at 10 o'clock this morning.

"I think there is something wrong in this case," the coroner said. "I want two good detectives and we will get to the bottom of it."

Simons Silent on British in Berlin Statement
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
BERLIN, July 21.—Foreign Minister Simons' declarations this morning at the press conference repeats his Berlin statements, but reference to British aid in carrying out the allies' demands is causing considerable discussion.

"Undoubtedly the time the entente dictated—three months for the beginning of disarmament and six for its completion—is short," said Dr. Simons, "but if it can be fulfilled loyally the entente will understand our necessity for militia. In the future we will have to see that a reorganization of our forces is made with the help of the allies. My plans are to send for and procure the advice and support of a nation which is experienced in taking strong security police measures in colonies where white men are settled."

Every one expects to see Dr. Simons hauled over the coals for this bid for British assistance.

LLOYD GEORGE ASSAILS POLAND AS "WAR MAD"

But Allies Back It Against Bolsheviks.

By JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 21.—Great Britain and France are pledged to uphold and support Poland against Russian aggression. This is not a result of Prime Minister Lloyd George's statement in the house of commons this afternoon; it is a result of the Spa conference.

The prime minister replying to questions severely criticized Poland for disregarding allied advice in launching its aggressive war against the bolsheviks.

"If ever a nation in history has gone war mad, that nation is Poland," the prime minister declared. "The present Polish government has not the support of a majority of the people, and the best reports I have indicate the Polish government may fall soon. I am depending upon the wisdom and far-sightedness of the bolsheviks to end the war when they realize the allies' support is with the Poles."

"Reckless and Foolish."

"I said earlier in the year and I say it now, it was reckless and foolish. I protested and pointed out the consequences. But that does not justify the crushing of a new nation. The bolsheviks are the last people to complain of the interferences of other nations. The bolsheviks have an elaborate organization for the very purpose of subverting every government in every land throughout the world. The soviet government interests itself in the business of every other state."

"If the Poles did make a mistake, that is no justification for wiping out national independence. The whole fabric of European peace depends on an independent Poland. There is no time for the machinery of the league of nations to interfere. If the bolsheviks overrun Poland and reach the German frontier, they deprive the allies of the entire fruits of victory."

Fighting an Autocracy.
"We are not fighting Russian democracy. The soviet government never was chosen by the Russian people. It is as great an autocracy as the previous era, and it is intolerable that a Russian autocracy shall dictate to Poland the kind of a government she should have."

"In the last few days Poland has raised a volunteer army of 300,000 men, but it lacks the equipment which France and Great Britain are ready to supply. Free Poland not only is an European, but a British interest, and I have no excuse to offer for support of it."

Russ Trade Mission Stopped.
The prime minister announced the Krasin-Kameneff trade mission had been stopped at Reval pending an answer by the soviet to the allies' demand for a Polish peace, and that the French and British had sent special envoys to Poland to investigate the situation and to report on immediate needs.

Referring to Spa, the prime minister paid a high compliment to Chancellor Freyhauf and Foreign Minister von Simons of Germany, whom he described as an honest, upright man, trying to carry out a pledged word. He also depended on the policy of continuous conferences.

On Polish Front

1—Fifteen hundred Polish troops were taken in the fighting at Vlna, it is reported. The Reds are now near Grodno.

2—The Poles have been forced back at the Mierich river, near Slutsk.

3—The Reds are slowly drawing a strange hold on Dubno. Fierce fighting continues there.

4—The Russians have crossed the Zbrucz river above Kamenetz, driving toward Galicia.

POLAND'S ENVOY DENIES NATION TRIED CONQUEST

New York, July 21.—(Special.)—

Prince Casimir Lubomirski, first minister of the new republic of Poland to the United States, in his suite at the Waldorf today declared Poland had not waged aggressive war, but, confronted by invasion by its hereditary enemy in January, 1919, had been on the defensive ever since, and desired only an enduring peace.

The Polish campaign that took Kiev and other cities and which brought on the Russian counter attacks now putting Warsaw in peril he explained by saying:

"Soviet Russia invaded our soil in January, 1919. Poland knows Russia through bitter experience. I have yet to find in history the story of a nation at war that abandoned a fight with its bitter enemy without a peace. Poland has no natural eastern frontiers behind which she can rest secure. There can be no pause in war."

"When your enemy retreats you must advance, so as never to give him time to rest, until he is ready to negotiate peace."

Bodies of 881 War Heroes Arrive from Overseas

New York, July 21.—Bodies of 881 American soldiers who died overseas arrived here today on the steamship Princess Matoika from Danzig and Antwerp. ## EVACUATION OF WARSAW BEGUN AS REDS NEAR Women Sent Away; Others Prepare to Follow.

South of Woloczysk (which lies to the east of Tarnopol) Red infantry, after artillery preparation, succeeded in crossing the river Zbrucz, the frontier of eastern Galicia.

Both Sides Lose Heavily.

There were heavy losses on both sides. During an infantry engagement along the Galician frontier, a Budenny cavalry detachment attacked a hospital train, but afterward was expelled.

The communication also says that a furious battle is raging in the region of Rovno, where a Red cavalry patrol broke through the rear of the Polish line.

In the north, the fighting has reached a point east of Grodno. There the Reds are driving southward toward the river Niemen line.

After two days of fighting with infantry and armored trains the Poles are withdrawing. Their line runs north and south. The Reds are attacking repeatedly east of the river Secary and the town of Stomina.

All the attacks have been repelled. The Poles are entrenched at places and endeavoring to make a stand behind the barbed wire defenses used by the Russo-German forces, in the face of overwhelming numbers of Reds.

Germany Is Neutral.

BERLIN, July 21.—An official statement was issued today declaring Germany's complete neutrality in the situation arising from the hostilities in progress between Russia and Poland. The statement was signed by President Ebert and Foreign Minister Simons.

MOSCOW RAPS LONDON

LONDON, July 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—The refusal of the Russian soviet government to cease war against Poland at the behest of Great Britain contained in a Moscow wireless dispatch received here today.

The refusal also constitutes an appeal to the workers and peasants of soviet Russia and the Ukraine. It is signed by Premier Lenin, Minister of War Trotsky, Foreign Minister Tchitcherine, and Commissioner of Justice Kuraiki, and says:

"The British government addressed a proposal to us July 11 to cease war against Poland and begin peace negotiations with Poland and other border states, promising that the Polish troops, in case of an armistice being concluded, would retreat to a frontier marked last year by the peace conference."

Rejected Terms on Wrangle.

"In the same note it was proposed that Gen. Wrangel and his Crimean shelter should not be touched. To all this we, the council of people's commissaries, answered by refusal.

"If England had not desired war she would have stopped supplying Poland with munitions and money. England is carrying on negotiations with us as a concession to her working masses."

"Lord Curzon (the British foreign secretary) places it upon the league of nations, in whose name he is making the proposal, but Poland enters into the composition of this league—Poland, who commenced a robber war against us."

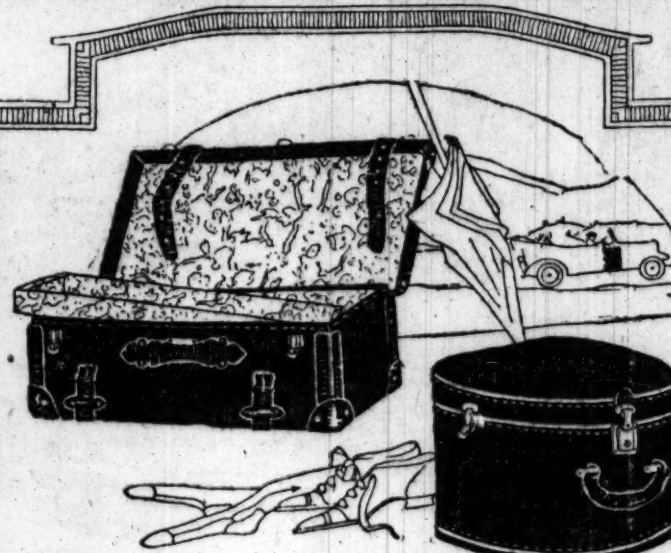

"All the members of the league, especially France, England and America, are bound hand in hand in this provocative war of Poland against Russia and the Ukraine."

Offers Direct Polish Peace.
"Our refusal of hostile mediation does not mean that we have altered our policy toward Poland. Moscow more than once has proposed peace to Warsaw, and if she will now appeal to us directly peaceful relations will be established between Russia and Poland, sooner, better, and more substantially in this way."

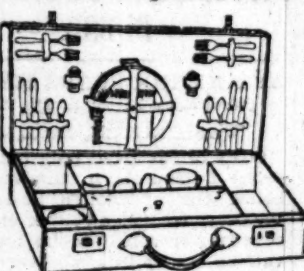

The communication says the real frontiers which the soviet government will establish with the representatives of the Polish people will be east of the frontier marked out "by the imperialists in London and Paris," who "are equally inimical and hostile to the workers of Poland and Russia."

"If the Polish people," the communication declares, "desires to receive an honest peace and an honest frontier, and find in the person of Russia a brotherly neighbor, it is necessary that the Polish people itself should seek it."

COX FACES FIRE OF CANDIDATES IN HIS PARTY

Some 'Bad Faith' Senators Up for Re-election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—(Special.)—The country is beginning to get a better idea of the twenty-six out of thirty-seven Democratic senators who are expected to be re-elected, and the uncompromising attitude of President Wilson on the subject of the treaty and whom Gov. Cox, the Democratic nominee for president, brands as guilty of promoting "bad faith" to the world in the name of America.

What the twenty-six Democratic senators are thinking, and some are of this charge made by their party leader after embracing the treaty stand on the covenant at the White House conference last Sunday, are the difficulties for the Democratic nominee in promoting harmony on the league issue in a large number of important states.

List of "Unfaithful."

There were twenty-one Democrats who stood with the president and twenty who bolted his leadership in the vote on the treaty on March 19. The following twenty-three Democratic senators voted for the covenant with the Lodge reservations:

Arizona, Beckham of Arkansas, Chamberlain of Oregon, Chandler of Florida, Gerry of Rhode Island, Gore of Oklahoma, Henderson of Nevada, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick of Wyoming, King of Utah, Knox of Montana, Nugent of Idaho, Phipps of California, Pittman of Nevada, Pomeroy of Ohio, Smith of Georgia, Smith of Maryland, Trammell of Florida, Wolcott of Delaware, Owen of Oklahoma, Randall of Louisiana, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana.

In addition, Reed of Missouri, Shields of Tennessee, and Thomas of Colorado, voted against the treaty either with or without the Lodge reservations.

Nearly All Up for Re-election.

Of these twenty-six Democratic senators who refused to follow the leadership of the president on the league question, ten are completing their present term of office and nearly all of them are candidates for re-election. They are Beckham of Kentucky, Chamberlain of Oregon, Fletcher of Florida, Jones of Nevada, Kendrick of Wyoming, King of Utah, Phipps of California, Smith of Georgia, Smith of Maryland, Thomas of Colorado.

It thus is apparent that in a number of states there will be the spectacle of the Democratic nominee for president appealing for support of the covenant without the Lodge reservations and a Democratic senator seeking re-election on his record of voting for the covenant with the Lodge reservations, now characterized by Gov. Cox as representing a projected act of "bad faith" to the world in the name of America.

Chamberlain Already Vindicated.

Some of the insurgents already have been vindicated at the hands of their party, some more strikingly than Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, who won re-election in the face of the president's telegram to the Oregon Democrats urging repudiation of any advocate of the Lodge reservations.

Senators Ashurst, Walsh of Massachusetts, Chamberlain of Oregon, Reed of Missouri and Shields of Tennessee, have been most outspoken in resenting Gov. Cox's imputation of promoting "bad faith" to the world. They do not believe that any question of good or bad faith is involved.

Owen Defies Cox's Stand.

"Gov. Cox explained himself in Ohio and he has not recanted, need not recant and will not recant," said Senator Owen. "He is for the league without impairing its essential integrity and with such reservations as will prevent its misinterpretation by foreign nations. In this particular he agrees with 90 per cent of the people of the United States and probably 60 per cent of the Republican citizens who have not as yet been misled by the 'bat-mill' of death' to believe the league will establish an overlordship by a foreign council over the people of the United States—an absurd theory born of political delusions and perhaps of political expediency."

Police are investigating an act of vandalism in a house at 5967 Race avenue which was engaged in Monday and Tuesday by ten men. The property is owned by Romaine and Eunice Peter, school teachers, living at 6221 Glenwood avenue. According to neighbors, the men drove up to the house on both Monday and Tuesday in a big truck which bore the name of some wrecking firm. No one remembers which one. The men proceeded to dis-

FACTIONS WIPED OUT IN EFFORT TO BEAT MAYOR

"National Republican Party" Incorporated.

All factional lines have been eliminated and group designations have been thrown in the scrap heap by the Republican forces that are working together to defeat the city hall organization in the September primaries. Under the name "The National Republican Party of Illinois," the combined strength of the combination of the Thompson-Lundin machine entered upon the fall campaign yesterday. The name was entered officially at Springfield through incorporation papers filed with the secretary of state by representatives of the preliminary organization that has been in process of development during the last five weeks.

Start Campaign Monday.

Headquarters are to be opened at once on the second floor at 109 North Dearborn street, and the campaign for the county ticket is to be in full swing Monday morning.

Conduct of the campaign is to be in the hands of a committee of ten that is to be announced today or tomorrow. This committee in turn will choose the general campaign manager and authorize the subcommittee that will be on the job.

The Thompson-Lundin county committee, that still claims to be the regular party organization in spite of the recent Supreme court opinion, has determined to take no chances, and is scheduled to meet today for the purpose of reorganization under the 1919 primary act, according to reports in closely informed city hall quarters.

To Change Officers.

Under the old law it is necessary that the chairman and secretary be members of the committee, and the understanding is that Charles R. Francis of the Twelfth ward will be made county chairman and A. C. Metzger of the Seventh ward will be made secretary. Mr. Francis was elected committeeman from his ward in April. Virtus C. Rohm, who was elected county chairman in May, is not a ward committeeman, and therefore is slated for displacement by Francis, according to last night's reports.

Democratic difficulties have been increased to some extent by the delay of former Mayor Carter H. Harrison in announcing his decision as to becoming a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. Final word is expected from him today or tomorrow. The inside leaders seem to be confident that he is about to announce his willingness to run.

Lewis Second Choice.

Outside reports had it yesterday that Mr. Harrison is out of it, and one story was that former Sheriff John E. Traeger is being groomed for the race. Within the executive committee the opinion was expressed last night that the failure of Mr. Harrison to enter makes it a surety that James Hamilton Lewis will be slated, although there is a possibility that he may decline because of ill health.

George E. Brennan was in Columbus, O., yesterday, at the session of the Democratic national committee, and did not speak before the Iroquois club, as had been announced.

There was renewed talk last night that Michael L. Igoe may file his petition as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state's attorney and that the petition for Thomas J. Lynch will be withdrawn.

Senate Race Unchanged.

Three of the candidates for the Republican nomination for United States senator, Edward B. Shurtliff, William B. McKinley, and Col. B. M. Chipfield, were in conference at Springfield yesterday concerning plans for the primary campaign. The only decision announced was that the three will continue in the running, just as they are now proceeding. Whether this will be changed by subsequent developments remains to be demonstrated. Mr. Shurtliff spoke last night before a large audience at Chatterton Opera house, Springfield.

G. O. P. WILL MAKE FUNDS PUBLIC, LODGE ASSERTS

Says He Wants Senate Inquiry to Continue.

BY ROBERT B. SMITH. Columbus, O., July 21.—(Special.)—Gov. Cox can have all the campaign funds publicly he wants.

That was the answer or Republican leaders today to Mr. Cox's demand for a daily or weekly accounting for receipts and expenditures during the campaign. They declared they were willing and anxious to accommodate him.

Here in Gov. Cox's stronghold the Republican leaders from all parts of the nation gathered today in large numbers. The Republican executive committee met in the same room where the Democratic national committee met yesterday. Republicans and Democrats of national prominence were in Columbus all day.

Rivals in Same Hotel.

Will Hays, Republican national chairman, and George White, the new Democratic national chairman, have rooms in the same hotel.

Mrs. Medill McCormick of Illinois, a leading Republican, had lunch with Mrs. Bass, chairman of the women's bureau of the Democratic national committee. There was much good natured bantering. Never before, perhaps, in the political history of the country have two parties brought the conduct of the campaign so close together.

Senator Lodge, Republican senate leader, one of the early arrivals today, was the first to answer Gov. Cox's challenge for a daily or weekly campaign fund accounting.

Lodge for Publicity.

"We will give Gov. Cox all the publicity he wants before the campaign is over," Senator Lodge said. "I notice he would like to have the Kenyon committee continue its sessions. I favor that also. The committee always is discovering such interesting things about Mr. Palmer."

When Gov. Cox was told at the state house what Senator Lodge had said about campaign funds he retorted: "Neither Senator Lodge nor I will furnish the specifications. The American people will attend to that."

Gov. Cox expects to have a conference with Senator Pomeroy at an early date to urge upon him the necessity of reconvening the Kenyon committee.

Senator Lodge thinks the Democratic nominee is going to find himself in hot water over the league issue.

Carries Wilson's Burden.

Mr. Cox, Senator Lodge believes, is committed to the Wilson program and will have extreme difficulty defending his position during the campaign. The Republicans, he indicated, will wage a relentless fight on this issue and give Mr. Cox no rest until he answers such questions as those contained in Senator Harding's recent questionnaire.

Fred W. Upham of Chicago, treasurer of the Republican national committee, came forward with a vigorous denial of Gov. Cox's charge that the Republicans are raising a campaign fund that would "stagger the nation's conscience."

"When you consider what the relative value of a dollar is now compared to what it was before the war the fund raised by the Republican party this year will be much less than any since McKinley's election," Mr. Upham said.

Harding for $1,000 Limit.

"Senator Harding has requested that a $1,000 limit be placed upon contributions. We have secured many more individual $1,000 subscriptions than ever before for the national campaign fund. We have organized for this purpose in every state, including the south. Each state is asked to raise its equitable share based on its ability to give."

Porch Basis of Campaign.

The wisdom of conducting a front porch campaign was discussed at length. Some members don't like the idea.

"There will be no change," Mr. Hays said after the meeting, "in the plan of Senator Harding's speaking campaign. It is his wish, and it is the unanimous opinion of the committee that the general plan of campaign shall be built around the speeches at Marion."

However, it has always been understood and it is contemplated that there may be speeches on nationally important occasions at nationally important places. The demand for speeches by Senator Harding from every state in the union are so pressing and insistent that it cannot, of course, now be decided when or where such addresses may be made."

An important action of the committee was the unanimous adoption of a resolution offered by Earl Kinsley of Vermont calling upon the Republicans in Tennessee legislature to vote solidly for the suffrage amendment.

Notification dates for Gov. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential nominee, virtually were settled for Aug. 7 and 9 respectively, and it was announced that both candidates would start almost immediately thereafter on speaking tours. Gov. Cox in the central and eastern states, and Mr. Roosevelt in the west.

ARABS ACCEPT FRENCH TERMS IN ULTIMATUM

Expected to End Syrian Banditry.

BY LARRY RUE. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) [By Special Cable.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 21.—King Feisal has accepted all the French demands contained in the ultimatum from Gen. Gouraud recently sent to the Damascus government, a French report from Beirut says. French troops had occupied Hama and the Arab zone between the Lebanon and Antilebanon mountains ready to move toward Damascus when the ultimatum was sent. The Arab action is expected to end the banditry in the French zone, considerable of which was directed from and by Damascus.

NO BRITISH SUPPORT. BY JOHN STEELE. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) [By Special Cable.]

LONDON, July 21.—King Feisal will have no support from the British in any war on the French. The British take the view his independence is not inconsistent with a French mandate over Syria, and at any rate they are not inclined to quarrel with the French on this question.

It is possible an effort may be made to induce Feisal to yield when he arrives in Europe, but that will be the extent of British intervention. Meantime the French trouble in Syria is being used as the text by British papers opposed to a British adventure in Mesopotamia. The Daily Express today says: "There is only one power with a wide middle east policy—the United States, which refused a mandate over Armenia. The best thing Great Britain can do is to follow America's example and clear out."

THE NEW STANDARD Nations used to weigh their monarchs yearly. If the king showed an increase in obesity, the people rejoiced; if not, they mourned.

But corpulence is no longer a monarchical standard, nor a democratic one either. Ability is the thing.

And ability depends largely upon physical fitness, such physical fitness as comes from eating the wholesome, nutritious food served at CHILDS.

Central America

American interests in Central America are served by Banks affiliated with The Mercantile Bank of the Americas in Nicaragua, Honduras, and Costa Rica and by Agencies in Salvador and Guatemala.

The nearness of Central America and its present commercial relations with the United States make it a fertile field for American business expansion.

In two of the countries, Nicaragua and Costa Rica, we control the only banks operating under American supervision—the National Bank of Nicaragua and the Banco Mercantil de Costa Rica. In Honduras we operate through an affiliate, the Banco Atlantida, and in Salvador and Guatemala through agencies.

The American merchants and manufacturers who are developing their business relations with Central America will find that of all the machinery necessary for facilitating foreign trade with these countries, no part is so well established as the banking machinery.

The Mercantile Bank of the Americas has thoroughly studied the peoples of Central America and their mode of doing business. It is prepared to place its knowledge and experience at the disposal of those interested in trade with Central America.

Declining Markets Demand Fast Turnover!

RISE markets have a tendency to remove the incentive to manufacturers for quick turnover because profits accrue regardless.

But slow turnover with declining prices may be disastrous to manufacturer, jobber and dealer.

In average times, the safest business is a quick-action conversion of raw material into goods, then into cash. Doubly true and important NOW.

Obviously, turnover is induced by advertising practically harnessed to the product and its sale.

The 16 years' experience of this organization in the use of advertising as an aid in selling many lines of merchandise becomes of interest to any advertiser who seeks maximum sales from his advertising.

ARTHUR J. EDDY, LAWYER AND ART CRITIC, IS DEAD

Also an Author, He Wrote
"Ganton & Co."

Arthur Jerome Eddy, lawyer, organizer of large industries, pioneer automobile globe trotter, author, and Chicago's foremost art critic, died yesterday at the Post-Graduate hospital in New York following an operation for acute appendicitis.

Mr. Eddy was 61 years old. He was born in Flint, Mich., Nov. 5, 1858, and was graduated from Harvard Law school. He was admitted to the bar in 1880, and had practiced law ever since. As a member of the firm of Wetten, Matthews & Pegler, with offices in the Woman's Temple, he was nationally known as a corporation lawyer and an authority on the subject of trusts.

Organized Big Companies.
He was instrumental in organizing the American Lined Oil company, a $10,000,000 corporation; the National Carbon company, a $20,000,000 corporation; the National Steel Foundries company, capitalized for $18,000,000; the National Turbine company, and other large corporations.

Among his works as an industry lawyer were "The Law of Combining," "The New Competition," and "Selling Taxes by Bond Levies." But Mr. Eddy was equally prominent in the literary world. He had traveled extensively, and there are few corners of the world he did not visit. In 1901 he made a 2,900 mile automobile trip, and he has been the American record holder since that time. He was one of the organizers of the Chicago Automobile club.

Gathered Art Treasures.
His home at 4152 Sheridan road and his residence at Pasadena, Cal., one of the show places of the coast city, are filled with art treasures collected all over the world. He was one of the first to praise cubist art, and was a strong supporter of the post-impressionistic school. In 1914 he was appointed by Mayor Harrison as his personal representative on the new Chicago commission for the encouragement of local art.

Among his best known books on art are "Recollections of James McNeill Whistler," "Delight, the Soul of Art," and "Cubists and Post-Impressionism." His office on the eighth floor of the Woman's Temple is a miniature art gallery.

Wrote "Ganton & Co."
In 1908 Mr. Eddy published his first novel, "Ganton & Co.," a story of the commercial and social life of Chicago "from the inside." It was dramatized by Hartley Manners under the name "The Great John Ganton." He also wrote "Two Thousand Miles in an Automobile," "Tales of a Small Town," and "The Warning," a play.

Mr. Eddy is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucy Eddy, formerly Miss Lucy C. Orrell of Flint, Mich., and one son, Jerome C. Eddy. Both were called to New York when the attorney became ill.

Mr. Eddy was a member of the Chicago Saddle and Cycle, Cliff Dwellers, and Outwilda Golf clubs of Chicago, the Valley Hunt club of Pasadena, the Los Angeles Athletic, and the Tuna club in California, and the Metropolitan, Recross, and New York Athletic clubs in New York.

Born Nov. 5, 1858. Died July 21, 1920.

SO MILD LOOKING HE HAS DIVORCE JUDGE GUESSING

Judge David no longer doubts that Morris Rosenbaum, proprietor of a clothing store at 2336 West Chicago avenue, has a temper. Rosenbaum appeared in answer to a suit for divorce. Desperation was charged.

"What was the real reason for this suit?" demanded Judge David. "He wouldn't support me," Mrs. Rosenbaum answered. "I had to leave him because of his awful temper."

"Temper?" questioned the judge. "Why, I don't believe that such a mild, peaceable looking person could lose his temper. Put him on the stand."

Rosenbaum took the stand and denied all of his wife's charges. Then he was cross examined by Attorney Charles E. Erbsstein. For several minutes the defendant answered questions with increasing impatience.

"Isn't it true that you covered up during the time you were lived with you, refusing to let her know you had any money?" demanded the attorney. "Isn't it true that all the time, as well as now, that you had a large bank account?"

"You're a liar," shouted Rosenbaum, jumping from his chair and waving his fist in the attorney's face. "You're a liar, Mr. Erbsstein."

"How's that for temper?" said Attorney Erbsstein, turning smiling to the judge. "I think he has a temper."

"So do I," answered the judge. "And if you, Mr. Rosenbaum, don't apologize to Attorney Erbsstein, you'll go to jail."

Rosenbaum apologized. Then Judge David declared his wife was entitled to a divorce.

PAVING INTEREST ALONE COSTS CAR RIDERS $733,514

Will Pay 6.84% on Item of $10,723,898.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The car riders of Chicago can expect to pay $733,514 this year in interest alone on paving. They not only must pay the cost of the paving, but a profit upon its value, and they will continue paying dividends on pavements they have bought as long as the present system continues. Yet many wonder why the surface fare is 8 cents.

When the present franchise ordinance was passed in 1906, the city appointed three appraisers of the property of the street car companies. These were Bion J. Arnold, Mortimer E. Cooley, and A. B. Du Pont. They reported the value of the Chicago City railway and the Chicago Railways company as $46,652,747 without consideration of the value of the paving. The value was $50,994,782. The companies at that time claimed a fair value for the paving was $5,129,032.

Paving Item Jumps.
The city and the companies finally agreed upon $50,000,000 as the value of both properties. In setting up the accounts a total of $1,295,573 was placed upon the books as the value of the paving. That was charged to capital account.

Each year, as paving has been laid, the cost thereof has been added to the capital account and patrons of the line have been forced to pay dividends on each addition.

At the beginning of this street railway year, Feb. 1 last, the paving item in the capital account was $10,723,898. At an 8 cent fare President Blair has represented to the public utilities commission that he expects this year to make 6.84 per cent on the capital account. So he contemplates getting 6.84 per cent on the paving item. In money that means $733,514.

Must Pay for Paving, Too.

The car riders must also pay for the paving—the $10,723,898. The money is technically supplied by the company, but it actually comes from the pockets of the car riders.

The company, when it needs money

In normal times, sells bonds or notes. These must be paid out of the car fares. The interest also comes out of the car patrons. When the principal and interest have been paid by the car riders, then the company will keep on charging dividends against the value of the money spent to get the pavements. That sum is in the capital account. Under the ordinance the company is entitled to 6 per cent upon it before the net profits are figured. Then the company takes 45 per cent and the city 55 per cent of the remainder.

That 45 per cent during the current year will amount to sufficient, in the opinion of President Blair, to make the rate of return 6.84 per cent, instead of 5 per cent. The payment of this earnings is in accordance with the provisions of the street car franchise.

An Answer to a Letter.

Since it was explained in this Tribune that the car riders pay the cost of the paving between the tracks of the company, several letters have been received. One bears the earmarks of having been inspired. It asserts the paving cost can never become a substantial percentage of the total value of the property.

The paving value in Chicago on Feb. 1 was $10,723,898 of a total value of $158,538,423. The $10,723,898 is both a "substantial percentage" and a "substantial" sum.

The Chicago Heights Street Railway company supplies an extreme example. That company was organized

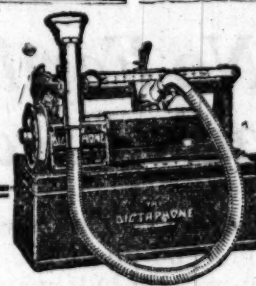

In 1901, and has not paid a dividend to date. Its president and other general officers receive no salary. In 1917 it did not even pay operating expenses, and filed a petition for an increase in fare from 5 to 7 cents.

City Paving Account.
Public Utilities Commissioner Shaw, an engineer, in granting the rate increase in December, 1918, commented as follows:

"The record shows the total cost of the property to Dec. 31, 1917, as $168,478, of which $55,252, or 32.7 per cent, was expended for paving. This grossly excessive proportion of the cost comprised in paving places upon the company a heavy financial burden that is more onerous because it is not of corresponding benefit to the city of Chicago Heights, but rather represents merely an equivalent amount saved to the owners of real estate fronting upon petitioner's tracks."

This company has $100,000 capital stock and no bonds. It cannot sell the property. It is said the owners of the street car line would have gotten rid of it long ago if they had not thought it was of benefit to other properties they have in and around Chicago Heights. An official of the company said yesterday he hopes some day the street car company will get on a self-supporting basis. Nineteen years is a long time without a dividend.

GREER COLLEGE OF MOTORING.

Why Trifle With Green, Unripe Drinks? Drink Schlitz—It Is Aged

YOU would not eat green fruit—fruit which is unripe. Yet unless you exercise care you will drink an unripe beverage—and suffer consequences.

There is a tendency today to cheapen and hasten beverages to meet a quantity demand.

Schlitz is not rushed. It is a scientific product—not a trifling concoction of the moment.

The years of experience and the hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of equipment that made Schlitz famous is making the Schlitz of today.

Schlitz is thoroughly aged—fully ripe. Then it is cooled in plate glass rooms, in filtered air.

The final step, after bottling and sealing, is sterilization by Pasteur's process—through which it is impossible for any germ to exist.

When we say Schlitz is pure we mean also that it contains no living organisms—no bacilli—nothing to cause fermentation in your stomach.

Drink Schlitz today. The Brown Bottle protects it.

on Every Pair of Dr. Pinkston's Famous Triple Combination Last
Oxfords and Pumps

Why This Is the Greatest Shoe Buy Ever Offered

First—Because these Oxfords and Pumps were priced very low to start with.
Second—Because they are designed by Dr. Pinkston, the eminent foot specialist, and made over his wonderful, easy fitting, triple combination last; which means they are two widths narrower in the heel, one width narrower in the arch, and two widths wider through the ball than any shoe that has ever been made. The narrow heel prevents the shoe from slipping up and down. The narrow instep keeps the foot from sliding forward and the broad ball gives perfect freedom to the toes. The entire comfort and grace of walking depends entirely on the proper articulation of the ball of the foot.

Cannot slip at heel or judge at side.

Third—Because Dr. Pinkston examines your feet and tells you what last shoe you should wear.
Fourth—All shoes are fitted by experts trained under Dr. Pinkston's supervision.
Fifth—The shoes are custom made of imported leathers, of vegetable tannage, which prevents the burning sensations caused by acid tanned leathers.
Sixth—Because you have an absolute guarantee that your shoes will be right in every detail.
Seventh—Because the sizes range from 2 to 12, and widths from AAAAAA narrow to EEE wide.
Eighth—Dr. Pinkston has solved the foot and shoe problem.

GENE GETS BIG THRILL OF LIFE; RIDES IN 'BOBUS'

Children at the Algonquin Camp Gain Health.

Remember "way back in the old days when your dad took you to visit your uncle in the country and how you enjoyed the trip to town in your uncle's old rig?"

Well, little Mildred, 6 years old, and her brother, Gene, 9, had a ride of that sort yesterday for the first time in their lives, only instead of an old rig they rode with fifteen other youngsters in a big auto truck which hauls supplies to Tip Top Camp, a free hospital and camp for poor, tired out mothers and their children at Algonquin.

Gene and Mildred's father ran away from their mother when they were babies and their mother has had to work ever since. Mildred was only 6 weeks old at the time and the mother has never regained her strength.

How Gene Won Nickname. Ever since he was old enough to talk Gene has had a hankering to ride in an automobile. He called every car he saw a "bobus." Now all his friends call him Bobus.

When it was decided to give the kids at Algonquin a ride into town Bobus was the first into line. His ambition was about to be realized. It would be his initial ride in a self-propelled vehicle. That is why poor little Bobus got more joy out of his ride in an automobile truck than many owners of fancy cars get from a spin over the boulevard system.

But riding in the auto truck isn't the only thing Bobus and Mildred do. They play games all day long under the direction of a playground director.

Need More Funds.

There is a list of other youngsters and their mothers waiting to go to Algonquin. About three hundred are cared for every two weeks. You can do your share of keeping Algonquin filled to capacity by sending in your subscription at once.

GEORGE REMUS WEDS WOMAN FOR WHOM HE FOUGHT PLUMBER

George Remus, militant genius of a thousand open court battles, has been married again.

The news swept the loop yesterday. There were smiles and "I told you so's." The old timers knew it. They knew George. Almost everybody in the theatrical or legal business knows George.

The new Mrs. Remus—George was divorced from the first Mrs. Remus a year ago—is Mrs. Gene Holmes of Evanston. Remus defended Mrs. Holmes in an altercation with an irate plumber. George chased the plumber from her home. Afterwards Mrs. Remus No. 1 sued for divorce, and named Mrs. Holmes.

Remus and Mrs. Holmes were married in Cincinnati two weeks ago. Remus sent word yesterday that he had left Chicago forever. He has formed new business connections in Cincinnati.

Victory Medal Applications Only 50,000; Interest Lags

Washington, D. C., July 21.—[Special.]—Instead of being swamped with applications for the Victory medal, the war department has received only 50,000 since June 21, when distribution was commenced by the army.

The department had prepared to issue approximately 35,000 a day. At that rate it would have taken four months to complete the distribution.

At the rate applications have been coming in, however, it would take almost six years to issue the medals to the men entitled to receive them.

WHEAT HANDS FOR BEET SUGAR CROP LACKING

"City" Blamed by Growers in Iowa.

A series of dispatches from Iowa, who is exploring the farms in the middle west to learn the status of the labor.

ST. ARTHUR, M. EVANS.

St. Arthur, Ia., July 21.—[Special.]—
The labor for the beet fields
in this section is in a bad way.
The corn and wheat belt in the hands of the beet sugar growers. Beet sugar, they say, is the key to sugar prices next year. The harvest next fall depends on the beet situation. This year there is a great increase in beet labor, but the drop in available labor has been even greater than in the past. The beet growers are blaming the city for the labor shortage. This is the largest economic plant that grows in this country. It has been cut in half.
Coming through the Yakima valley last week, fruit growers said a large part of the canning this year will be without sweeten-ing, while the sugar stuff will probably be so scant in supply that it will knock holes through the ceiling with prices.

In this part of Iowa one comes across the general labor shortage, but the farmers have adjusted themselves, mainly by extending their own hours of work. Along the Cannon Ball road from Monmouth to Burlington, the farmers are still lost in wonderment at the appearance of the corn, which has already made up much of the time lost by delayed planting on account of rains. On the Iowa side of the Mississippi farmers along the route said crop conditions were much improved over the outlook a month or two months ago. A dozen farmers here in Keokuk last night all said the same thing: "We're shy on labor, but the crops will be got in. It's harder work, but things aren't too bad."

Harvest for Harvest Hands.
In the last two days, this pilgrimage has been across three beet sugar men of factories in Michigan, and other beet states, out skimming for men in the cities through the flow of transient harvest labor. One had been to Cincinnati, and had been coming the employment agencies in Denver, Kansas, St. Louis, Omaha, and Chicago. "The beet raisers are vastly worse than the wheat growers," said one of the men. "High prices of sugar have resulted in an expansion of the beet field, but it's hard to get men with a fine tooth comb, no matter how much you boost the wages."

Auto Canning Shortage.
Your company, for instance, gets the men to plant beets and agrees to pay them to take care of the crop.
You are now paying $35 an acre, as against $22 two years ago to open for the crop. One man can take fifteen acres.
It means only a day's work now and then, and the rest of the time the man can work for the farmer and make extra money.
has his house and his living. Some able to pull out at the end of a season with $800 or $1,200, and 50 per cent of this is velvet. Yet it seems men rather than in greasy overalls working nuts on bolts in some factory for $5 or $6 a day and spend it all on living expenses and gas for the five-than take a job in the country where a laborer can salt away nine-tenth of his jack. The automobile industry has turned the labor market upside down and has knocked the men of other industries and of farming out of adjustment.
Here, brother, is the humble beet,

"MISS CHAIRMAN"

For the First Time a Woman
Presides at a National Convention—That of the Prohibition Party.

MISS MARIE BREHM.
[Photo Fox.]

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—William Jennings Bryan was nominated by acclamation as the Prohibition party's presidential nominee at the national convention here today. The nomination came after a resolution "tendering" him the position of standard bearer had brought out the fact in debate that he had telegraphed friends here that he
"could not accept."

In naming Bryan the convention upset precedent as well as its program by selecting the candidate on the first day.
Nominations were not scheduled until Friday.

The nomination came after a stampede of the delegates which was started by the resolution of W. G. Calder-wood of Minnesota, "tendering" Bryan the leadership and asking him to reply promptly to the convention
whether he would accept.
This brought out the fact that Bryan had wired Clinton N. Howard of New York he would decline. Speakers criticized Howard for what they termed his "resistant attitude" in not making public the correspondence sooner, when it was generally known this morning that he had heard from Bryan.

The text of the telegram follows:
"Prohibition Convention, Lincoln, Neb.—I appreciate your confidence in me. Please see my brother, C. W.
Bryan. He will fully explain why acceptance is impossible."

Charles Bryan sent a letter to the convention urging that it reject the resolution and saying that Bryan's friends would oppose his accepting.
For the first time in the history of national politics a woman has been chosen permanent chairman of a national convention. Miss Marie C.
Brehm of Long Beach, Cal., wielded
the Prohibition gavel.

Other permanent officers chosen were: James G. Mason, New Jersey, assistant chairman; E. L. G. Henthall,
Connecticut, secretary; Miss Minnette
Murphy, Iowa, assistant secretary; W.
G. Calderwood, Minneapolis, Minn.,
reading clerk; Neal Dow Crammer,
New York, sergeant-at-arms; Lucy
Paine Gaston, Chicago, assistant sergeant-at-arms. All selections were unanimous.

Specializing men's and young men's better grade two-trouser suits —light weight and medium weight

Unsettled conditions in the clothing market favored us strongly in the acquisition of these suits—they cost us much less than will the new fall lines, and many of them will serve splendidly for your fall wear.

Values much superior to the ordinary

at 43.75 and $56

Suits with quarter-lined coats; light and dark colors, plain and in fancy mixtures, in durable worsteds, chevots and cassimeres.

The extra trousers add 50 per cent to every suit's service —and there is a world of convenience in having the additional trousers pressed and ready for any dress emergency.

Up-to-date models, both single breasted and double breasted; "ultra" effects for young men, and conservative styles for men more mature.

Only the Microscope Can Find This Disease

There have been many happy homes destroyed and lives wrecked through the failure of or a hasty and unwarranted diagnosis of a venereal disease.

The microscope is the only infallible guide in the diagnosis of gonorrhea and early syphilis in its beginning lesion, through locating and demonstrating the presence of the organism which causes these diseases.

No diagnosis of gonorrhea or early syphilis should ever be made without the aid of the microscope. For that reason the Public Health Institute, Inc., relies absolutely upon the microscope in making its diagnosis of these two diseases. We invite personal inquiry.

Notes

Philadelphia again today.

That made five straight the Phillies have won from the Cubs, the other four being in Philadelphia last month. It was their first win of the year here.

John A. Heydler, William Griggs Jr., William F. Baker, and William L. Veck set together in the presidential box, and President Baker of the Phillies enjoyed the game better than all the rest.

Torrey Deal, and Merkle were the lads who made the three hits off Rixey, and Deal's was a double. It came with one down in the fourth. Killifer followed with a sharp hit to Fletcher, who nailed Deal at third and spoiled that chance.

Merkle opened the home sixth with a single. Robertson bunted a pop fly which Eppa Jephtha reached by stretching himself, and Merkle was helpless down at second base, giving Eppa an easy double play to first.

Fletcher was greeted with notice of his reinstatement on his arrival in town and broke into the fray with both feet, so to speak.

NOTES

Boston, Mass., July 21.—[Special.]—

Three more in three days is the schedule for the Sox here.

Dick Kerr is slated to give the Red Sox a look at his southpaw curves tomorrow.

After the four rampant and noisy days in New York, the game here today seemed awfully tame. A crowd of about 6,500 was out.

Two fiery plays prevented the Sox doing anything in the eighth. Jones gathered up a red hot smash right at his toes from Eddie Collins' bat, and McNally knocked down a terrific liner by Weaver, then recovered in time for a play.

Joe Jackson climbed the terrace in left field and pinched a long drive from McInnis in the eighth. Joe finished on his ear. In the third he tried the same thing on Jones' wallop, but missed it and finished on his eyebrow.

GIANTS, 5; REDS, 3.

St. Louis, Mo., July 21.—[Special.]—

St. Louis 3, 2, in twelve innings. Doak scored from first with the winning run when Exars made a wild return of Smith's double to first. He knocked out only five in the final drive in the final inning with two out and two on base kept Boston out of a run.

Joe Jackson climbed the terrace in left field and pinched a long drive from McInnis in the eighth. Joe finished on his ear. In the third he tried the same thing on Jones' wallop, but missed it and finished on his eyebrow.

In the Wake of the News

THIS IS POTES' DAY.

RETROSPECTION.

He plucked for me a red rose fair From out the garden one June day, And gently placed it in my hair, Then softly smiling turned away.

Years have passed since we were wed, And steady as in days of youth, Tho' withered, as it is, and dead, To mind me of a vanished hour.

To tell of love, that's tender, true, And steadfast as in days of youth; And pure and fair as skies above, And simple in its perfect truth.

E. M.

Haw! Haw!

I remember happy kid days When we tho't it quite a lark To forage round for red-haws That grew in Garfield Park.

They were worms, mostly seeds; the tree Was full of thorns that pricked; We'd have to hide when we peeked, And we'd find that we'd get licked.

We'd fill our pockets and our hats With the reddest ones we'd find.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Boston, Mass., July 21.—[Special.]—

Bad breaks and some bad baseball caused the downfall of the White Sox today in the opening game of the series with Boston, the Red Sox getting away with a close battle, 2 to 1.

A timely wallop by one of the Chicagoans on three or four occasions would have changed the whole combat, but no one was able to produce a timely wallop with Sam Jones hurling in his best style.

Gen. Joe Jackson drove a lengthy swat into the distance right field bleacher in the second round for four bases. That was the only run the White Sox gathered, and Joe's blow had to come when no one was on the bases waiting for any kind of a wallop, but in the critical places either Mr. Jones would set the batter down with his wholesome flinging or one of his mates would turn a sparkling play and rescue him.

Claude Has Had Inning.

Claude Williams opposed Jones and was a better pitcher in all except one inning. The Red Sox bunched blows on him in the fifth, one a screaming bouncer by Harry Hooper, and two runs were knocked in. Two was all Mr. Jones needed. Only seven hits were made off Claude, but it was a two bagger, Hooper's triple, and a sacrifice fly bunched in the fifth that caused all the trouble.

What looked like a bit of bold pitching by Williams also took place when the enemy scored the two runs. Williams was first up and got a two bagger on a short fly to center because Felsch attempted a one handed catch off his shoes and missed.

Nice One for Hooper.

Williams fanned Jones in fine style and then, after getting the call of two strikes and one ball on Hooper, sailed a nice high one through on the inside and Hooper pulled it viciously to the corner of right field for three sacks. Yitt followed with a sacrifice fly to Felsch and Hooper came home with the run that won the game. At no other time did Hooper get hold of such a nice one.

Then to the well, say, we felt swell. The worms we didn't mind. Gone are those old thorn-apple trees. And the old artesian well; And I hope the guy that made it dry Sits on a thorn in Hell. H. J. S.

The Handsome Waiter.

My friend, the head waiter, brings "I espied dismay By constantly shooting the women away; If he wanted to shine as a masculine vamp He could make Theda Bara resemble a tramp.

Whenever he pilots a doll to her plate He fears she will seek to inveigle a play and rescue him.

But they can't grab him off, try as much as they can, Though they might if he wasn't a family man.

He's stuck on his wife and his kids, And his brood Needs a whole lot of jack to buy garments and food; So, girls, take my word, and quit wasting your gulls, And

TRUCK HITS AUTO;
TRAIN HURLS IT 50
FEET; 3 UNHURTTwo Cars on Electric Line Derailed.

A touring car, containing two men and a woman, was struck by an auto truck near the Sacred Heart station on Lake Forest last night, hurled in front of a north shore electric train going at a speed of fifty miles an hour, carried a distance of fifty feet by it and pitched back into the roadway upside down.

All three persons crawled out from under the twisted, splintered pile of wreckage uninjured, save for a few cuts and bruises and a bad shaking up. Both coaches of the limited train were derailed by the force of the impact and the front car, bearing forty girls from north shore towns to a night of Columbus dance in Lake Forest, bumped completely off the tracks and swung around across the automobile road without upsetting.

Bride and Groom Escape.

The three automobilists who passed practically unscathed through the crash did not give him time to pass. The bride and groom, who were on the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee tracks for a distance of two miles through Lake Forest and Fort Sheridan, when he saw the northbound truck approaching. The truck, owned by the Great Lakes Fruit company of Waukegan, was being driven by H. G. Shales. According to Detmann and the crew, the truck was carrying a load of apples and was being driven by Shales and Conductor Otto Petz. Shales had been drinking.

Hurled in Front of Train.

Detmann says he dimmed his lights and so did Shales but that the truck did not give him time to pass. He drove as closely to the tracks as he could but the truck struck his car with such force that it was hurled into the air and landed on the tracks. Detmann and Groneh stuck to the car as it was carried sideways in front of the train and tossed back in the road upside down.

Those aboard about 100 passengers on the train which left Chicago at 8 o'clock and was due in Lake Forest at 12. Many women became hysterical as it rolled over the rails and out into the roadway and some had to be assisted out through the windows. Both coaches remained upright and formed a wall behind the wreckage. The wreckage of the truck was scattered all over the road and some of the girls in the front coach received slight cuts and bruises.

The load of fruit on the truck was not even disturbed and the driver, John Schwartz and a 15 year old boy, Henry O'Neill, who were asleep on the load, were not jolted off.

DIVORCE SUIT
HALTS TRIAL FOR WIFE BEATING

With both eyes discolored and her face bearing marks of recent ill treatment, Mrs. Anna Aylesworth, daughter of Judge George R. Thompson of Elgin, appeared yesterday before Judge Irwin R. Hazen in the Sheffield avenue court to prosecute an assault charge against her husband, Charles E. Aylesworth.

Mrs. Aylesworth testified that her husband was intoxicated. She remonstrated and he struck her, discolored one eye. When she attempted to defend herself with an umbrella he wrested it from her and hit her across the face, breaking her nose and blackening the other eye.

When she testified, she charged, her husband carried her to her room, partly disrobed her, tied her limbs with a pair of silk stockings, packed a grip, and prepared to leave the house when policemen summoned by neighbors arrested him.

TWO VACATIONS
A YEAR URGED
BY DR. EVANS

Winter vacations are just as necessary as summer recreation periods, according to Dr. W. A. Evans, health editor of THE TRIBUNE, who spoke yesterday at a luncheon of the Association of Commerce.

"The vitality of the people is at its low ebb during midwinter as it is in the hot weeks of midsummer," said Dr. Evans. "Persons ought to have winter vacations and facilities to make it possible for Chicagoans to take cold weather vacations should be furnished by the city."

Leaps from Father's Wagon
to Meet Death by Auto

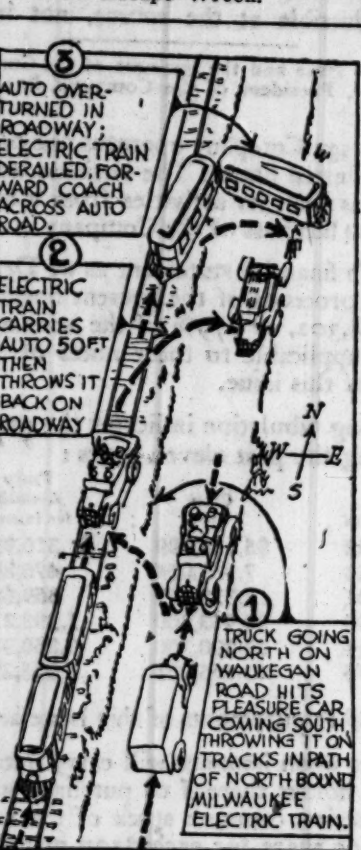

Joseph Simonx, 9 years old, of 2651 West Division street, jumped from the back of his father's express wagon onto the intersection of Western avenue and Iowa street last night. An automobile driven by Fred Koenigsberg of 1503 North Ashland avenue ran over the boy, who died a few minutes later in the German Deschutes hospital.

$30,000 IN GEMS
FOUND WHEN MAN
FALLS INTO TRAPArrest May Clear Up
Many Robberies.

The recovery of $30,000 worth of stolen jewelry has followed the arrest of Leroy Green, colored, 3539 Michigan avenue, last Tuesday night, the police state. When arrested the man had $10,000 worth of jewels and $400 in currency in his pockets.

After the arrest the detectives took a bunch of keys they found in his pocket and opened a safety deposit box in the National Safe Deposit company. A dazzling mass of diamonds, rubies, emeralds, and pearls met their eyes. Rings set in diamonds, lavallieres, bar pins, brooches, strings of beads, and many other valuable articles were discovered.

Pawn Broker Sets Trap.

The man was arrested after he had pawned a ring in a loan shop. The proprietor of the establishment became suspicious, made a future appointment and notified the police. When Green presented himself at the appointed time he was arrested.

A stick pin and a watch found on his person were identified by A. J. Appleton, 2735 Sheridan road, Evanston. The man's arrest is expected to clear up several of the robberies in Chicago and Evanston during the last two weeks.

Eighteen robberies were reported to the Evanston police yesterday. Robbers took $500 worth of silk shirts and neckties from McFarland & Ehmman's clothing store. The home of C. W. Peterson, 2343 Ridge avenue, was entered for the second time.

$5,000 Motor Car Stolen.

Mrs. C. D. Howell, 330 Greenwood avenue, reported that her $5,000 motor car had been stolen. A. H. McConnell, 1914, Sheridan, said he scared robbers away from his home before they even gained an entrance. Rudolph Hoeselquist, 1704 Elmman avenue, reported the loss of a $50 bicycle.

A. M. Nelson reported that he frightened would-be burglars away from his garage. F. J. Keller, 718 Clark street, said two men entered his home and took some clothing.

Someone Returns Lost Dog, Scorns Auto as Reward

Whoever had Tubal, the $2,500 French bulldog belonging to Mrs. A. Pollanabee of 674 Hill road, Winnetka, evidently doesn't care for automobiles. When Tubal disappeared last Monday Mrs. Pollanabee frantically phoned the Winnetka police.

"I'll give $50 to any one who'll find Tubal," she said. "If that isn't enough I'll give my new Cadillac. They can have their choice, $50 or the car."

Yesterday some one slipped up to the Pollanabee garage and dropped Tubal in through the window.

OUR CITY'S I. O. U.
DOESN'T LOOK SO
GOOD TO BANKERSMan with $127,307 Check Runs Into Trouble.

Bankers are not falling over themselves to make loans on the certificates of indebtedness the city is issuing to creditors in lieu of dollars and cents.

A case in point is that of G. E. Munch, president of the American Development company, which holds a bill for $127,307.35 for supplying fuel and globes for gasoline street lamps.

Though the issuance of certificates did not become general until Tuesday, Mr. Munch got in on the ground floor. Four certificates, each calling for about $32,000, were issued to his company last Thursday.

Legality Questioned.

Mr. Munch took the certificates to the Central Trust company of Illinois and endeavored to negotiate a loan on them. One of the bank's officers raised the question of their legality, and the right of City Comptroller Harding to issue them.

Back went Mr. Munch to the city hall with a request that the city law department rule on the legality of the certificates.

"Better Than Nothing."

As expected, there was a rush on the comptroller's office yesterday by the city's creditors.

"Better than nothing," was the comment of most of the applicants for certificates.

In enforcing Mayor Thompson's ruling that city funds be conserved for the regular pay rolls, and consequently several "pets" of the Thompson administration, carried on extraordinary pay rolls as lawyers and experts, were among the applicants for certificates.

By 5 o'clock today fifty certificates, concrete evidence of $200,000 in debts the city cannot pay at present, had been issued. Among those who received certificates were Harry Good, real estate expert, $3,100; W. S. Tottel, maker of playground equipment, $4,100; Lux Manufacturing company, $7,000; John F. Higgins company, printers, $30,000.

J. M. TANANEVICZ
LOSES LAST FIGHT
TO AVOID PRISON

An order of the United States Supreme court yesterday affirmed the verdict sentencing John M. Tananevich, a private banker, to three years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $280 imposed by a jury in Judge Hugo P. Ryan's court in July, 1917.

Tananevich's private bank at 3253 South Morgan street was closed after a run. Investigation then disclosed he was insolvent. Three thousand dollars, mostly Louisiana bonds, were lost to the extent of approximately $50,000. He blamed his troubles on enemies who circulated handbills saying he was spending the depositors' money on a woman.

The trial and conviction followed soon after the crash. The case was reviewed by the Appellate court, the State Supreme court and finally by the highest court in the land, all affirming the sentence. It is expected Tananevich will be apprehended today and taken to Joliet.

FIND MOTHER OF CLAIMANT TO COWAN MILLIONSEx-Slave Denies She Knew Oil Magnate.

Wheaton, Ill., July 21.—The mother of William Cowan Lowry, who created a sensation several weeks ago when he appeared at Wheaton and claimed the $2,000,000 estate of the late William Cowan, oil magnate, on the grounds that he was Cowan's illegitimate son, has been located. She is living on a plantation near New Madrid, Mo., and denies she ever knew the Wheaton millionaire, according to State's Attorney Charles Hadley of Du Page county.

Fred Elmayer, owner of the plantation, testified in the Du Page county circuit court here this afternoon that Lowry's mother, Millie Lowry, and two other children, are employed by him. The mother is 80 years old and a Negroess, he stated.

Lowry testified at Wheaton several weeks ago that his mother, who he claimed was an Indian, died years ago and that he buried her in Tennessee.

Lowry does not appear. "Lowry has not appeared, and I am sure he will not," Mr. Hadley said today. "I was sure from the start that his story was a fabrication. He claimed his mother was a beautiful Indian actress and that she lived with Cowan as his common law wife in Chicago. He claimed that he was born of this marriage and that his mother gave him a letter when she died years ago, telling him that Cowan was his father."

Mrs. Lowry, who was a former slave, denies the entire story. She never heard of Cowan and was never in Chicago, she says.

Today's Question.

What do you think of the railroad award?

The Answers.

M. L. FAUST, 7237 Cornell avenue, bricklayer—I think the award was nothing but justice. The railroad ought not to pass it on to the public, though, as corporations have other similar raises.

FRED J. HAUCK, 4532 North Ashland avenue, solicitor—The rail award was no more than justice to the railroad workers. It was the right thing to do.

M. R. NATHAN, 847 East Seventy-sixth street, grocer—The rail award strikes me as being a bit excessive, but I guess the men had it coming.

LOUIS M. GOLDEN, 1234 South Sacramento avenue, junk dealer—The rail award was justice. Everybody knows the railroad men have been underpaid for years. There should be no talk of strikes, though.

PATRICK R. PHENEY, 1409 North Clearmont avenue, contractor—The railroad men had it coming and I am glad they got it. But I do think talk of strikes and threats of strikes that they made were mighty poor business. The public is glad to see men get their just dues, but it would resent extreme measures such as this strike.

"Eddie the Immune" Jackson says he made a mistake. Jackson, who has been arrested many times as a pickpocket, put his hand into the pocket of Patrick J. Dreesman, a policeman. Dreesman put his hand over Eddie's head and took him to the station. The incident occurred on a Madison street car. The case will be heard today in the South Clark street court.

NEGROES CHARGE
THE WHITE COPS
WITH COWARDICE

White and colored witnesses told varying stories yesterday before the police trial board at the trial of James Cooley and John J. Vaughan, white patrolmen, charged with neglecting their duty during the Abyssinian riot of June 30.

The Negro witnesses frequently drew comparisons between the action of Vaughan and Cooley and that of Joseph P. Owens, a Negro patrolman who rushed to the defense of the American flag when the Abyssinian paraders attempted to burn it. Owens was shot by one of the paraders. He was subsequently awarded $100 for his bravery by THE TRIBUNE.

Henry H. Gold, colored, said he called the attention of Vaughan and Cooley to the incident riot, and that Cooley hastened to a telephone and Vaughan backed around the corner of Thirty-fifth street and Indiana avenue when the paraders covered him with guns and rushed for another telephone.

REDS' WITNESS
BOASTS HE SAID
WHO SHOULD EATSeattle Strike Story Told to the Jury.

In an effort to refute the testimony of former Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle, Wash., regarding conditions there during the "general strike" of February, 1919, the defense in the trial of twenty radicals charged with sedition before Judge Hebel called as their first witness James A. Duncan, president of the Seattle Machinists' union and secretary of the Central Labor board of that city.

He proudly presented labor's side of the controversy in the strike bound city, and told of how completely the business of the city was tied up. He declared the strike committee established eating places and milk distributing stations, at which it was necessary to produce an "exemption card" before being served. These exemption cards were likewise granted to permit the use of gas, to turn in fire alarms and hold funerals, was part of the labor leader's testimony.

Tells Mayor's Plans.

Mayor Hanson, pictured as pleading with the strikers. Reference to "pleading" and of the mayor "adopting a conciliatory manner" and of "coming down to earth" were ordered stricken from the records on motion of Special Prosecutor Frank Comerford.

The witness was allowed to tell of the plans of the mayor during a luncheon at which he was the mayor's guest.

"Hanson kept pleading with me about his lights," he said. "Jim, Jim, won't you please give me my lights. I don't give a damn about the street cars, but be a good fellow, Jim, and give me my lights."

He replied to a question as to how long the mayor kept up the "Jim, Jim" plea by saying it was for an hour and that he told the mayor he could do nothing for him. That was two days before the strike was called, the witness stated.

Tells of Visit.

That the mayor made a trip to his office the next day and asked if something could not be done by him to avert the strike, was another of Duncan's statements.

"I told him he was big enough he could. I said the ship yard workers struck for a 10 per cent wage increase, but if he could reduce the cost of living that much they would consider that the equivalent of the wage increase. He said, 'I think I can do it,' and he went away and hasn't come back yet."

Martial Law Threat.

"At his conference the mayor claimed that the radicals had secured control of our organization," Duncan continued. "He said that unless the strike was called off he would declare martial law and send in the troops."

"I told Mr. Hanson to remember that the gas house workers were 100 per cent union and that gas was still being supplied to the city, but that if martial law were declared I could not take the responsibility of keeping the gas workers at their posts. I also told him that with the coming of troops the coal miners would strike. He appeared to be sure that the troops would be loyal, and when I warned him that they might not be he said he would test them. I did not want a test made on the streets of Seattle."

Hanson Ends Story.

Ole Hanson was subjected to cross-examination during the morning session of court. He resigned under the Seattle strikes were settled and took up writing and lecturing, he answered in reply to a question as to his present occupation. Poverty, neuritis, and dizziness were the only ailments he claimed to have as mayor, and he now earns $35,000 yearly, he informed his questioner.

Evidence against William Bros. Lloyd was also introduced in the form of a letter written by him to A. Feichtmiller of Wausau, Wis. The letter contained bitter denunciations of the Socialist party for its lack of action and declared that it was time for the working class to take over the government, "peacefully if the rulers choose to give up, by force if they do not make that wise choice."

FINANCIERS SEE BETTER SERVICE IN RAIL AWARD

The railroad wage award and the probability of the scheduled increases being accepted by the unions continued to be the principal topic in financial circles yesterday. In the stock market the continued strength of railroad securities indicated a growing belief that the railroad employees will accept the award, and that there will be no general strikes or serious difficulties. With the factors entering into the general industrial situation, the view from Washington inspired hope that the interstate commerce commission is likely to take early action on the request of the railroad executives for increased freight and passenger rates and a possible baggage tax.

Look for More Efficiency.
It also was argued that the increase in railroad pay, coupled with the slowing up of other industries, might be expected to attract more efficient workers. Approval of the effect of the advance in railroad wages is not easy, in the absence of clear indications of the attitude of the unions. The Iron Age says: "The steel trade the more general opinion is that, with the award retroactive for ten weeks, and in view of its nature, a widespread strike against it is not likely."

"The increasing signs of reaction in various industries are cited as having an important bearing. Steel manufacturers look for some relief from the desperate conditions of many weeks, with the return to work of experienced railroad workers, but it is recognized that movement will be slow, and it is admitted the accumulations of product are more than have been commonly known."

Roads Make Progress.
That the railroads are making progress in relieving the transportation tie-up is evidenced in the credit situation. Credits are moving more liberally and country banks consequently are enabled to reduce their borrowings from the New York institutions. The new crop movement, however, soon will begin, and whether autumn will see an even greater stringency depends largely on the ability of the railroads to move products to market.

In well informed quarters it is estimated that 1,000,000 freight cars should be added to the country's railroad equipment in the next five years. The estimated cost of this equipment is $2,000,000,000. It is stated that the railroad equipment companies cannot completely supply an adequate number of locomotives and cars for at least three years, under the most favorable credit and other conditions.

Announce Stock Meltdown.
Several "stock meltdowns" were announced yesterday. The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company declared a 200 per cent common stock dividend on both classes of common stock, payable in new class B common stock on Aug. 16 to stockholders of record Aug. 1. It is proposed to exchange both classes of common stock of $100 par value for new class B stock. For each share of old common stock four shares of new common will be given, and for eight shares of class B stock twelve shares of new class B will be given.

The Trumbull Steel company declared a 25 per cent stock dividend. The announcement stated it was an "initial" dividend, which was interpreted as meaning additional stock dividends are planned.

Directors of the Aetna Explosives company are considering a plan which is in effect a distribution of assets, either a dividend or a reduction of capital by retirement. It is believed the plan will involve an offer to purchase a large block of common stock at a price slightly above the present market price of $11 a share.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. A vertical crease is visible near the left edge, and the overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.
